

HEAT CAUSES MANY DEATHS.

Forty-three People Succumb and Two Hundred and Eighty Prostrated.

SUFFERING WAS WIDESPREAD

Worst in Crowded Tenement Districts of the Great Cities of The East.

New York, July 18.—An era of oppressive heat that brings to mind with unpleasant vividness the record breaking summer of 1901, has settled down over the eastern and New England states, already numbering hundreds among its victims and causing indescribable suffering to thousands in this and other cities.

From all points tonight came the story of the hottest day of the summer, attended with frequent prostrations and not a few deaths. Philadelphia reported a maximum temperature of 98.3, the highest figure officially noted. In this city the weather bureau's high mark was 96, while in Boston 94 was recorded.

The official thermometers located in exposed places above the street did not, however, indicate the temperature in which the ordinary mortal moved, and many street thermometers indicated a temperature of 100 or higher, some recording instruments registering 104 and 105.

Following are the maximum temperatures officially recorded in the larger cities with the known cases of prostration and deaths:

CITY.	Maximum Temperature.	Prostrations.	Deaths.
New York	96.0	187	23
Philadelphia	98.3	50	5
Baltimore	97.3	5	..
Washington	95.0	4	..
Boston	94.0	4	..
Pittsburgh	93.0	24	13
Buffalo	78	2	1

(In the above table the total of prostrations include the fatalities.) The above figures by no means represent the sum of human suffering today, as an endless number of victims who suffered at home, in the office or workshop were privately attended. No relief was in sight tonight and the roll of fatalities must necessarily be increased by many who, having thus far withstood the ordeal, are so weakened as to be more susceptible to the heat of tomorrow.

Today all records for the summer were broken in point of high temperature, but mercifully the humidity was correspondingly less.
Only for this, the total prostrations and deaths must have been doubled.
In New York the suffering was intense, especially in the crowded tenement districts, where a breath of air relieved the stifling atmosphere.
Thousands who could afford the holiday flocked to the beaches, but even in the consequent crowds women and children fainted and men were overcome, making the trip from home a doubtful experiment as far as securing any comfort was concerned.

At 4 o'clock this morning the mercury stood at 50 degrees and rose until the maximum of 96 was reached at 4 o'clock.
The humidity was 72 at 8 o'clock, but it lessened steadily until only 35 was registered when the temperature was highest.
It was a busy day for the hospitals, and the ambulances were continuously on the street.
Joke keeper of the monkey house at Central park, crowded with monkey trainer and the lion of the children who frequent the Zoo, was among today's victims. One of the keepers complained of the heat and Cook voluntarily helped him, overexerted himself, was stricken and died.
Early in the day the hot wave inflamed the stock exchange and its effect was quickly apparent on the trade.
Many of the leading operators deserted the floor and the market became listless and dull.
To add to the unavoidable physical suffering, Brooklyn was threatened with a water famine, while the whole city was startled by the prospect of a strike of the women. The water supply in Brooklyn was reported as nearing the danger point and the water department took immediate precautions, warning that street sprinkling be temporarily suspended, and warning householders to be more economical in the use of water.
In Manhattan, it was said, had no cause for alarm, as far as the water supply was concerned.
It was different with the ice question, though an expected strike today did not materialize. A few ice wagons driving stopped work, but deliveries continued. There was some anxiety as to what tomorrow might bring forth in the trouble of the women.

Prompt measures were taken today by the police and park commissioners to alleviate in some degree the suffering of the public. Orders were issued keeping open throughout the night the park gates and permitting those who wish to spend the night in the park places. "Keep off the grass" signs were by permission disregarded, and tonight thousands of men, women and children slept on the grass, and many of them slept on the grass in the public parks, seeking relief from the night's intense heat by the greatest shade gathered on the banks of the river there even after midnight were mowed and it was estimated that an army of 10,000 men, women and children, the latter being in the majority, made beds in the sand. A northwest breeze blew over the island, bringing much comfort to the sweltering thousands. A large force of extra policemen was kept on duty and guarded the sleepers from harm.

The early morning hours in Manhattan brought considerable relief in the shape of a mild breeze which caused a drop in the street temperature to 79 degrees by 4:30 a. m.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Capt. King Found in Cabin of His Yacht, Shot.

New York, July 18.—What the police of the Bath Beach, Brooklyn station, believe to be a desperate attempt at murder, and one that will probably be successful, was revealed today when Capt.
William J. King, whose home is in the Brooklyn, was found near death in the cabin of his yacht Agail, anchored off Bath Beach.
Capt. King was found lying on the floor of his yacht's cabin. There was a bullet wound in his left temple, and his right shoulder, and his lower jaw was fractured. The cabin was in great disorder, showing that a terrific fight had taken place. The police believe the pirates may have committed the crime.

STRANGE CELESTIAL BODY.

Color of Brilliant Gold and Hangs Over Mount Hood.

Hood River, Or., July 18.—Rejoice-ment within nine miles of the summit of Mount Hood, Ore., in a state of bewilderment over the presence of some celestial body, high above the mountains.
In color it is of brilliant gold, and it glitters in the sunshine. Close inspection with powerful glasses indicated that it is a celestial body more or less incandescent in consistency.

TOWN TOPICS.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Krotel Begins an Investigation.

New York, July 18.—An investigation of the affairs of Town Topics growing out of the arrest of Charles A.
Ahle on charges of blackmail preferred by Edwin M. Post of the New York stock exchange was begun today by Asst. Dist. Atty. Paul Krotel. Mr.
Krotel declined to say anything about his investigation, but it was intimated that the matter would be brought to the attention of the grand jury. It is known that counsel for Town Topics refused to furnish to the assistant district attorney a list of subscribers to the book "Fads and Fancies" of the Four Hundred, published under the auspices of the Town Topics company.
Moses Elie Wooster, a member of the Society Editors' association, who got up "Fads and Fancies" and also "America's Smart Set," called on Mr.
Krotel today and furnished to the assistant authorities a copy of the much talked of agreement between the Town Topics Publishing company and himself. The agreement shows that Wooster engaged to secure subscribers to "Fads and Fancies," all subscription contracts to be in the name of the Town Topics Publishing company, that the company was to secure an editor and have full supervision of printing and binding; and that Wooster was to receive commissions of 10 per cent on subscriptions up to $50,000 and 20 per cent on all in excess of that amount, the net profit to be equally divided between the parties thereto.
Wooster further told Mr. Krotel that there was no fixed price for subscriptions to the book. He also declared that the subscription of a woman very prominent in society cost her $10,000, and that while the minimum rate was $1,000 some subscribers had paid $5,000 and others as high as $7,000 for their books. This increased the amount obtained for the production of "Fads and Fancies" from $150,000 to more than $200,000.

MARQUIS M'NUTE.

American in Rome Gets Three Months' Imprisonment.

Rome, July 18.—Sentence in the case of former Marquis Francis MacNutt, the wealthy American who was pup-petmaster of the cloak and sword until deprived of his title and office on the charge of disorderly conduct, was made public today. MacNutt is condemned to three months' imprisonment "with provisory liberty."

Republican Elected.

Lincoln, Neb., July 18.—At a special election for congressman held today in the first congressional district, Ernest M. Pollard, Republican, of Nebraska, was successful over his opponent, Frederick W. Brown, carrying the district by a majority that will reach 2,500.
Half the usual vote was cast. Mr. Pollard will succeed E. J. Burkett, who resigned to become United States senator.

President Goes Camping.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 18.—President Roosevelt and his three sons, accompanied by a party of cousins and friends, left Sagamore Hill this afternoon on their annual camping out expedition.
Hampers of provisions were carried down to the four boats in waiting for the party on the president's bathing bench.
After packing away the provisions and camp outfit into the boats the president and his companions rowed toward a point on Lloyd's neck which had been selected as a place of camping.
The president himself will be the camp director. Around a camp fire the president intended to relate some of his own experiences to his companions.

In the party, beside the president, will be Theodore Jr., Kermit and Archie Roosevelt, sons of the president, Jack, Phillip and George Roosevelt, sons of W. Emlen Roosevelt; two sons of Mrs. J. West Roosevelt; two sons of Mr. Landon, a neighbor of the president and a friend of Theodore Jr., who is visiting him. The party is expected to return to Sagamore Hill tomorrow about 9 o'clock.

JUDGE W. B. HOOKER VOLUNTARILY TAKES STAND

Albany, N. Y., July 18.—Former Congressman Warren B. Hooker was a voluntary witness today at his trial before the joint legislature on charges growing out of the postal investigation.
Justice Hooker, whose career in Congress ceased in 1898, said that it was the custom in many districts for retiring congressmen to have the postoffice patronage. He spoke feelingly of the vast number of requests that came to a congressman. Many of his constituents, said he, regarded him as an errand-boy between them and the departments.

In the charges against Justice Hooker it is alleged that Frank P. Ball of Dunkirk was given a position in the Fredonia postoffice at the solicitation of Hooker; that Ball never performed any service, and that his salary was applied to liquidating notes given by Ball and endorsed by Justice Hooker's wife. The witness asserted that neither he nor his wife lent a dollar directly to Ball. Mrs. Hooker went on his notes only as an accommodation indorser.
The fact that Ball was not doing any work in the Fredonia postoffice, the witness averred, was never brought to his notice, nor did he ever have any conversation with Ball or arrangement by which Ball was to do no work, and was to apply the salary toward the payment of the notes.

Of his nephew, Maurice Hooker, he said he never knew that young Hooker, who had a position as laborer in the Fredonia postoffice, was not actually doing the work.
"I never paid a dollar," said the witness, "of the money which Postmaster Taylor of Fredonia restored to the government for Ball's and Hooker's salaries."

Every indication tonight favors a decision by the legislature not later than Thursday night in the case of Supreme Court Justice Warren B. Hooker. The taking of testimony for both sides was completed today, and the argument of counsel will begin tomorrow.
The constitution requires for removal a separate two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each house, thus 33 votes would be required in the senate and 100 in the assembly.

GROWTH OF COTTON

To be Encouraged in British Colonies.

Washington, July 18.—An apparently well organized movement started by the cotton manufacturers of Great Britain to encourage the growth of cotton in the British possessions and countries other than the United States, is reported to the department of commerce and labor by Consul Halstead at Birmingham, Eng. This movement is being directed by the British Cotton Growing association, and was started to liberate the British cotton trade from the danger of American speculation. The demand for cotton steadily increases but so far the cotton growers, who have no corresponding development of the sources of supply. The huge crop produced in the United States has relieved the situation, but American planters, the regular point of view, to maintain prices by reducing the production. The international congress in session at Manchester a few weeks ago assumed that in 10 years $50,000,000 acres under cultivation will be necessary to supply the world's demand, and the United States will be only able to provide 25,000,000 acres, and that limit will be reached within seven years. India, Africa, the West Indies, Mexico, Egypt and Cyprus have such natural conditions that cotton may be raised there with good results. To promote the interest in the movement, the British Cotton Growing association, has opened in London an exhibition where the products of the English colonies are shown.

Cut to Pieces by Train.

Helena, Mont., July 18.—A dispatch to the Record from Billings says George L. Crease, a bartender, and Rubie Reilly, a restaurant man, were struck by a Northern Pacific switch engine about 2:15 a. m. and cut to pieces, their bodies being torn to fragments and entrails strewn along the track. The men were waiting at the Twenty-seventh street crossing for No. 3, westbound passenger train, and did not see the switch engine going in the opposite direction.
Reilly's wife was on the passenger train for which her husband was waiting when he was killed.
Crease's wife and two children live in Helena. Corner Rinehart is holding an inquest this afternoon.

HOW TRANSPORTATION IS DONE IN MOROCCO.

The picture illustrates the method of baggage and merchandise transportation which still prevails in some parts of north Africa. In the recent German expedition sent to visit the sultan of Morocco the belongings of the members of the embassy were carried from Tangier to Fez in this manner. The step of the camel is so rhythmical that the boxes of goods resting upon the timbers strapped to the beasts' fore shoulders are carried in perfect security.

Benjamin Franklin as an Advertiser

Every one knows that Benjamin Franklin was a philosopher and a naturalist, and all newspaper men recognize that he was the first great American newspaper man, but few realize that he was a good advertiser.
N. W. Ayer & Son, the advertising agents of Philadelphia, issued as a Fourth of July souvenir a handsome booklet, under the title of "In the Land of Benjamin," which sets forth many most interesting facts regarding Franklin, and features as only an advertising agency could, Benjamin's advertising ideas and practices. Franklin's shrewd sense in using the printed page to tell people what he wanted them to know, made him an excellent example for the business men of all time.
The book abounds in many facts concerning the most interesting man in our history, and brings out in clear light his grasp and use of the advertising idea.
The house of N. W. Ayer & Son, in the Land of Benjamin, has a history of its own and methods of its own.
It is no disparagement to others to say that it has done more advertising, and more to develop newspaper advertising than any other firm in history.
